THE 40-YEAR AGE DEADLINE

There is good reason for President William Green, of the American Federation of Labor, and those associated with him as members of the executive committee of that organization to give consideration to the present-day tendency of large employers of labor not to take on men and women who have passed their fortieth year. It's a matter which deserves the attention and study of every man and woman and every child of understanding years, for it is one which affects the entire citizenship of the country.

It is easy to get the viewpoint of the employer. With insurance and pension plans so common today in big organizations, the employer does not care to take on any additional disability risks which might work to his disadvantage, and he is still inclined to cling to the old view that age is wholly a matter of years. He does not take cognizance of the changed conditions of living. He is still inclined to look on the man of fifty as old. He does not realize that men and women are living longer lives; that they are younger in heart and viewpoint and hence younger in body; that the span of life has been lengthened. In the old days of drudgery, men of fifty were old, but with the improved living conditions and the improvement these conditions have worked on mind and body they are no longer. At fifty, they are in their productive prime.

If, however, employers are going to persist in setting an age deadline, they must prepare themselves to meet two radical developments. They must prepare themselves to see the wage of labor go up, and they must prepare themselves to see a general old-age pension, to which, as the chief beneficiaries of productivity, they will be the heaviest contributors.

It was not so long ago that we were accustomed to hear the term, "a living wage." We not only heard it from the political spellbinders, we not only saw editorial references to a living wage, but we also heard labor demanding it. We never liked the term. We are bound to like it still less if men and women are to be denied employment at forty. If men and women are to be held productively dead at forty, or so near thereto at that age as to justify barring them from employment, they must have far more than a living wage through the years before they reach that age; they must have an accumulating wage; a wage that will enable them to make provision for the future, and no citizen will be able to escape contributing to it. The people of the country will contribute to it, or they will contribute to a pension system in lieu of it. And they may do both.

The forty-year age deadline is a two-edged sword.

What Others Say

MERCHANT MARINE TROUBLES

There is no one who will not laud the attempts being made to develop an American merchant marine which will assure to this nation a sufficient number of bottoms under United States registry to protect our interests and handle our foreign commerce. But there are a number of practices being engaged in by the Shipping board and by American steamship companies that deserve only condemnation. Decency should prevail in this as in other lines of business competition.

As an example, the Shipping board has made strenuous protests to the Italian government against its policy of granting subsidies to Italian vessels, either in the form of refunds for fees paid to the Panama canal or lower rates on Italian railroads. These subsidies are legitimate, although not courteous methods of stimulating the Italian merchant marine business, and are not unlike various proposals now being considered for the development of our own shipping. The protests have rightly caused resentment in Rome.

Another case is that of crude discriminations against British vessels in such ports as those of Porto Rico. On several occasions British vessels, carrying numerous American citizens, have been subjected to great inconvenience and embarrassment in Porto Rican seaports, simply because of the antagonism existing between rival steamship companies. Passengers have been refused the right to land for a day merely because they were traveling on British vessels.

If congress concludes to grant a substantial advantage to vessels of American registry, in the form of a subsidy or otherwise, all well and good. But there is no call for such petty methods of competition as these. Probably they do more harm than good to the development of an adequate merchant marine under the American flag.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

BROKEN REST APT TO FOLLOW NIGHT MEALS

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
(United States Senator from New York)

But here comes a letter from the editor of a news paper in Canada asking the same question. Since nightmare appears to be an international or universal complaint, it surely deserves special consideration.

Anything that interferes with restful sleep is a matter of importance. It cannot be neglected. Unless some means can be found to permit normal rest at night, there is sure to be undermining of the health.

True insomnia, as chronic failure to sleep is called, is one of the most distressing of human ailments. Babies have disturbances of sleep, due usually to wrong feeding. Ordinarily this takes the form of restlessness, rather than actual wakefulness. But grown men and women may find themselves unable to sleep the number of hours necessary for their well being. This is serious.

The broken sleep may be a condition lasting for weeks or months. About this I shall speak again. In children, we meet what is commonly referred to as "night terrors." The youngster wakes up with a scream, and sobs in fear. Because of the fright, sleep is impossible for several hours, perhaps.

There are a number of things that have this effect on the quality of sleep. The lack of ventilation of the sleeping room is a common cause for broken rest. It is essential to physical comfort to have plenty of air.

In the next place it is important to be lightly covered. If the bed clothing is too heavy, there will be such disturbance of comfort as to be disturbing to body and brain.

If there is such discomfort as I have mentioned there will be dreams and, if they are of a frightful character, there may be nightmare. A dream of burglars or murder will cause the victim to cry out in his sleep and to awaken in fright or terror.

It is probable the most common cause for disturbed sleep, frightful dreams and nightmare, is indiscretion in eating. Taking a rich, full meal late at night will create gastric activity that is almost certain to cause dreams. Then may come the nightmare.

Chronic constipation with intestinal fermentation will do the same thing. If gases form in the abdomen, there are set up nervous impulses which may end in nightmare.

These are some of the comments

The Stars Say—

For Sunday, March 24

SUNDAY'S horoscope favors the mystical, introspective and cultural avocations normal to the Sabbath Day. Little else seems to be encouraged by the stellar mutations. Social activities are not promising, even those in behalf of church activities. It is a time for serious thought or pursuit.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a rather routine or mediocre year, with little gain or satisfaction, although certain new projects may lure. Mental occupations may find steady growth. A child born in this day may be inclined to serious thought or labors, having a studious or deep mind, possibly with a trend toward the mystical. Yet it will not lack in popularity or lighter qualities.

Content thyself to be obscurely good.—Addison.

For Monday, March 25

MONDAY'S astrological forecast may be said to be portentous of hostilities, vexations and defeats. There will be many forms and phases of disappointment, opposition and contention, and these may be aggravated or contributed to by individual tumult, impetuosity and want of civility. Only calm control, patience and perseverance will forestall devastation and loss. Beware false moves or changes.

Those whose birthday it is are not promised a notably successful or satisfactory year. The delays, obstacles and trials should be met with patience, equanimity and optimism rather than tumult and tempest. A child born on this day may require very careful training and discipline from earliest infancy, as it may have many contradictory qualities which could be developed and diverted into channels of happy usefulness. Perhaps its tendency to change may be wisely catered to in order to bring control and equipoise.

Things at the worst will cease, or else climb upward to what they were before.—Shakespeare.

DAMAGES ASKED IN AUTO ACTION

Suits Follow Accidents To Columbiana Co. Residents

Lisbon, March 23.—Two automobile damage accident suits have been filed in common pleas, each seeking $25,000 damages.

The first filed was that of Conardine Handwork, by his counsel, Sidney L. Geiger of Alliance against Chris. Berger, Salem, R. F. D. 4. The plaintiff resides at Beloit, R. F. D. No. 2.

The plaintiff has set up that at 8:15 o'clock the evening of Sept. 8, last, she was a passenger in an automobile operated by Carrie Slagle, and that it was driven off brick road between Westville and Beloit, when she got out of the car, walked around it, and as she took the first step on the brick road she was struck by a machine being driven on the left side of the road by the defendant, her hands going through the head lights. Berger, the petition shows was driving on the left side of the road, and was operating his machine in a careless manner. Serious injuries were sustained by the plaintiff, the petition sets up.

Benjamin P. Hall has also sued Claude Nease of East Liverpool for $25,000 damages. The petition of Hall sets up that Nease was driving his car on St. Clair ave., East Liverpool, at 8 o'clock the night of March 2, last, without headlights, and Hall had no warning the car was approaching as he was walking across the street. Hall was knocked down, run over, had six ribs and his right shoulder broken, his nerves shattered and a portion of his body is now paralyzed as a result of the alleged negligence of Nease.

COLUMBIANA

Columbiana is to have a new dentist, Dr. J. W. Shreve of East Palestine having rented the second floor of the Coblenz block, corner of South Main st. and public square. We Congratulate

THE SCHWARTZ ORGANIZATION WHICH HAS PROGRESSED WITH SALEM and is now celebrating its 13th anniversary.

THE REICHART FURNITURE COMPANY closely allied with business conditions in thriving cities realized that Salem held opportunities, such as, found in very few towns with population twice as large, due only to their good citizens high class mercantile establishments and diversified industries.

The opening of a REICHART store in Salem almost a year ago has shown a steady growth of a wholesome business. Day by day growing larger in the furnishing of better homes in Columbiana County.

We sincerely hope that at the close of another 13 years the Reichart Furniture Company will again be able to congratulate many such organizations as Schwartz on their anniversary in Salem.

Again we say Salem is a good place to live in, to work in, and to trade in.

Time! - the safe measure of motor oils

Judge motor oils by using TIME as a measure.

Consider carefully the fact that a half century of refining experience is behind FREEDOM Perfect.

In addition, 100% Pennsylvania Crude is used exclusively in its making.

As a result, you obtain a lubricant which positively protects to temperatures 100 degrees higher than is possible with mediocre oils.

FREEDOM Perfect motor oil should always be bought by name. This makes certain you are given no other. For sale throughout this territory by responsible dealers.

THE 40-YEAR AGE DEADLINE

There is good reason for President William Green, of the American Federation of Labor, and those associated with him as members of the executive committee of that organization to give consideration to the present-day tendency of large employers of labor not to take on men and women who have passed their fortieth year. It's a matter which deserved the attention and study of every man and woman and every child of understanding years, for it is one which affects the entire citizenship of the country.

It is easy to get the viewpoint of the employer. With insurance and pension plans so common today in big organizations, the employer does not care to take on any additional disability risks which might work to his disadvantage, and he is still inclined to cling to the old view that age is wholly a matter of years. He does not take cognizance of the changed conditions of living. He is still inclined to look on the man of fifty as old. He does not realize that men and women are living longer lives; that they are younger in heart and viewpoint and hence younger in body; that the span of life has been lengthened. In the old days of drudgery, men of fifty were old, but with the improved living conditions and the improvement these conditions have worked on mind and body they are no longer. At fifty, they are in their productive prime.

If, however, employers are going to persist in setting an age deadline, they must prepare themselves to meet two radical developments. They must prepare themselves to see the wage of labor go up, and they must prepare themselves to see a general old-age pension, to which, as the chief beneficiaries of productivity, they will be the heaviest contributors.

It was not so long ago that we were accustomed to hear the term, "a living wage." We not only heard it from the political spellbinders, we not only saw editorial references to a living wage, but we also heard labor demanding it. We never liked the term. We are bound to like it still less if men and women are to be denied employment at forty. If men and women are to be held productively dead at forty, or so near thereto at that age as to justify barring them from employment, they must have far more than a living wage through the years before they reach that age; they must have an accumulating wage; a wage that will enable them to make provision for the future, and no citizen will be able to escape contributing to it. The people of the country will contribute to it, or they will contribute to a pension system in lieu of it. And they may do both.

The forty-year age deadline is a two-edged sword.

What Others Say

MERCHANT MARINE TROUBLES
There is no one who will not laud the attempts being made to develop an American merchant marine which will assure to this nation a sufficient number of bottoms under United States registry to protect our interests and handle our foreign commerce. But there are a number of practices being engaged in by the Shipping board and by American steamship companies that deserve only condemnation. Decency should prevail in this as in other lines of business competition.

As an example, the Shipping board has made strenuous protests to the Italian government against its policy of granting subsidies to Italian vessels, either in the form of refunds for fees paid to the Panama canal or lower rates on Italian railroads. These subsidies are legitimate, although not courteous methods of stimulating the Italian merchant marine business, and are not unlike various proposals now being considered for the development of our own shipping. The protests have rightly caused resentment in Rome.

Another case is that of crude discriminations against British vessels in such ports as those of Porto Rico. On several occasions British vessels, carrying numerous American citizens, have been subjected to great inconvenience and embarrassment in Porto Rican seaports, simply because of the antagonism existing between rival steamship companies. Passengers have been refused the right to land for a day merely because they were traveling on British vessels.

If congress concludes to grant a substantial advantage to vessels of American registry, in the form of a subsidy or otherwise, all well and good. But there is no call for such petty methods of competition as these. Probably they do more harm than good to the development of an adequate merchant marine under the American flag.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

BROKEN REST APT TO FOLLOW NIGHT MEALSBY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
(United States Senator from New York)

In the senate barber shop a few days ago, one of my colleagues inquired the cause of nightmares. Of course, there are plenty of citizens of the United States who would say at once that the senators themselves are the chief cause of many nightmares!

But here comes a letter from the editor of a news paper in Canada asking the same question. Since nightmare appears to be an international or universal complaint, it surely deserves special consideration.

Anything that interferes with restful sleep is a matter of importance. It cannot be neglected. Unless some means can be found to permit normal rest at night, there is sure to be undermining of the health.

True insomnia, as chronic failure to sleep is called, is one of the most

The Stars Say—

For Sunday, March 24
SUNDAY'S horoscope favors the mystical, introspective and cultural avocations normal to the Sabbath Day. Little else seems to be encouraged by the stellar mutations. Social activities are not promising, even those in behalf of church activities. It is a time for serious thought or pursuit.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a rather routine or mediocre year, with little gain or satisfaction, although certain new projects may lure. Mental occupations may find steady growth. A child born in this day may be inclined to serious thought or labors, having a studious or deep mind, possibly with a trend toward the mystical. Yet, it will not lack in popularity or lighter qualities.

Content itself to be obscurely good.—Addison.

For Monday, March 25

MONDAY'S astrological forecast may be said to be portentous of hostilities, vexations and defeats. There will be many forms and phases of disappointment, opposition and contention, and these may be aggravated or contributed to by individual tumult, impetuosity and want of civility. Only calm control, patience and perseverance will forestall devastation and loss. Beware false moves or changes.

Those whose birthday it is are not promised a notably successful or satisfactory year. The delays, obstacles and trials should be met with patience, equanimity and optimism rather than tumult and tempest. A child born on this day may require very careful training and discipline from earliest infancy, as it may have many contradictory qualities which could be developed and diverted into channels of happy usefulness. Perhaps its tendency to change may be wisely catered to in order to bring control and equipoise.

Things at the worst will cease, or else climb upward to what they were before.—Shakespeare.

DAMAGES ASKED IN AUTO ACTION

Suits Follow Accidents To Columbiana Co. Residents

Leban, March 23.—Two automobile damage accident suits have been filed in common pleas, each seeking $25,000 damages.

The first filed was that of Conradine Handwork, by his counsel, Sidney L. Geiger of Alliance, against Chris Berger, Salem, R. F. D. 4. The plaintiff resides at Beloit, R. F. D. No. 2.

The plaintiff has set up that at 8:15 o'clock the evening of Sept. 8, last, she was a passenger in an automobile operated by Carrie Slagle, and that it was driven off brick road between Westville and Beloit, when she got out of the car, walked around it, and as she took the first step on the brick road she was struck by a machine being driven on the left side of the road by the defendant, her hands going through the head lights. Berger, the petition shows was driving on the left side of the road, and was operating his machine in a careless manner. Serious injuries were sustained by the plaintiff, the petition sets up.

Benjamin F. Hall has also sued Claude Nease of East Liverpool for $25,000 damages. The petition of Hall sets up that Nease was driving his car on St. Clair ave., East Liverpool, at 8 o'clock the night of March 2, last, without headlights, and Hall had no warning the car was approaching as he was walking across the street. Hall was knocked down, run over, had six ribs and his right shoulder broken, his nerves shattered and a portion of his body is now paralyzed, as a result of the alleged negligence of Nease.

We Congratulate

THE SCHWARTZ ORGANIZATION WHICH HAS PROGRESSED WITH SALEM and is now celebrating its 13th anniversary.

THE REICHART FURNITURE COMPANY closely allied with business conditions in thriving cities realized that Salem held opportunities, such as, found in very few towns with population twice as large, due only to their good citizens high class mercantile establishments and diversified industries.

The opening of a REICHART store in Salem almost a year ago has shown a steady growth of a wholesome business. Day by day growing larger in the furnishing of better homes in Columbiana County.

We sincerely hope that at the close of another 13 years the Reichart Furniture Company will again be able to congratulate many such organizations as Schwartz on their anniversary in Salem.

Again we say Salem is a good place to live in, to work in, and to trade in.

WEST SIDE CLUB

A literary program provided entertainment at a meeting of the West Side Community club Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Haviland, Damascus rd. Thirty-eight members and friends of the club were in attendance.

Comic recitations and songs given by Carl Whitcomb, an invited guest, were appreciated. He played his own accompaniment for the songs on a Hawaiian guitar.

Ralph Snyder contributed vocal solos, accompanied by Mrs. Snyder. Recitations were given by Mary Ruth Greenstein and Wallace Luce. The social committee served a lunch.

Among the invited guests were Mrs. Russell Stowe and the Snyder family. Mr. and Mrs. Price Cope were welcomed into the membership of the club. The April meeting will be with Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Luce, Damascus rd.

MRS. FOLTZ HOSTESS
Entertaining her club associates Friday, Mrs. Howard Foltz gave a luncheon-bridge at her home, McKinley ave. A pot of tulips made the table attractive. Three tables were engaged in the bridge games. Honors went to Mrs. Joe Kelley and Mrs. William Windle.

In two weeks the members will meet with Mrs. Charles Snyder, Broadway.

Miss Ruth Gordon, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. P. H. Gordon, Franklin ave., who underwent an operation for appendicitis in Lakeside hospital, Cleveland, is reported to be getting along well.

Shelling Ineffective
The Progresso's bombardment caused little damage, according to telegraphic advices from Vanadillo headquarters, while rebel cavalry under General Roberto Cruz, advancing in two wing columns, succeeded in capturing the Catalinas district and Loma Atravezada hill, both points of vantage, according to insurgent advices.

Cruz set up telegraphic connection between Loma Atravezada and Vanadillo soon after capturing the hill.

Shortly before midnight the rebel infantry succeeded in capturing Mazatlan cemetery in the heart of the city where breastworks immediately were thrown up.

While federalists still held Loma Atravezada they sent an airplane up to check Cruz' cavalry advance.

Plane Brought Down
The plane was brought down by rebel fire just after taking the air, crashing into massed federal soldiers, causing a panic in the ranks which resulted in Carrillo's retreat to the north hill fortification according to insurgent communication.

Telegraphic communication between the Vanadillo field headquarters and the Nogales rebel garrison was constant throughout the night. Durques remaining at the telegraph operator's side watching progress of the battle.

Borquez told International News Service early today "if we win Mazatlan we win the revolution."

The Torreon sector also promised a possibility of action today with a large rebel force from General Jose Gonzalo Escobar's army reported massing at Bermejillo, 30 miles north of Torreon. Calles' base, apparently for the purpose of beginning the new rebel southward drive.

AFRICA TOPIC IN CHURCH LECTURE

Missionary Uses Pictures In Illustrating Address

Miss Clara Ford, of Cleveland, gave an instructive talk about the Friends mission in Africa at a meeting at the First Friends church Friday evening.

Miss Ford illustrated her talk with stereoscopic views. These pictures were taken at the mission station.

Miss Ford is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson Ford, who are engaged in mission work in Africa. She has been in this field with her parents and was personally acquainted with some of the natives shown in the pictures.

The enjoyable program given at this service was arranged by the Missionary circle of the church, and the president, Mrs. Harry Parsons, presided.

A playlette, "What a Doctor Finds," featured the program. Mrs. Fred Capel, as the doctor, took the leading role. Others who had part in it were: Mrs. Charles O'Connell, Mrs. Bessie Paxson, Mrs. Kuntz, Mrs. Mary Wachemith, Miss Vera Weaver, Mrs. Mary Harshman, Miss LeVerda Capel, Mrs. L. L. Parks and Mrs. Charles Barnes.

A quartet composed of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Derr and Mr. and Mrs. Grant Elton sang a selection, with Mrs. Harold England playing the accompaniment. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Regal, Mr. England and Homer Elyson, contributed a song.

They were accompanied by Miss Bessie Park.

Preceding the service the Missionary circle entertained their husbands, the Ruth circle, and their husbands, and friends, at a covered dish supper. The tables were attractive in appointments in keeping with the Easter season.

ART GOEBEL

endurance records when it stayed aloft for approximately a week. A refueling plane, which transferred, in mid-air, gasoline oil and food to the flyers, made this possible.

The latter will be one of the most important factors in Goebel's intended air-venture.

Preparations are already under way for the hop-off, according to the aviator. The airman made a forced landing at the Vandavia airport here recently while enroute to Wichita, Kansas, from Washington, D. C.

Western financiers are backing the flight, it was learned.

"Several months will be required to complete arrangements the birdman said."

"Bases must be established at 15 different points along the route with two refueling planes at each station," he explained.

When asked how long it would take him to "beat" the universe, Goebel, after a studied pause, answered, "I estimate it will take me between five and six days to make the trip."

Outlining the tentative route, Goebel said: "I will start at Wichita, fly across the tip of Hudson Bay, touch Greenland, Ireland, Norway, Sweden, Petrograd, follow the Greater Siberian railroad through China, skirt several Pacific Island groups back to the west coast and then home (Wichita)."

His plane, tri-motored and of the monoplane type, is already under construction at the Knott Airplane factory in Wichita, he said.

Goebel closed the interview by stating that two men would accompany him, a co-pilot to relieve him at the "joy-stick" and a radio operator, to facilitate navigation.

MURDER THEORY IN AUTO BLAZE

Charred Body of Man Found In Rear Seat of Auto; Fire Cause Doubtful

Ironton, O., March 23.—An automobile fire here today which resulted in the death of James Kinney, 40, whose charred body was found on the rear seat, caused an investigation to ascertain whether the man had been slugged, robbed and then set on fire.

Blood stains in the car led officers to believe Kinney was attacked as he drove up to his garage to store the automobile. When firemen were summoned the motor was racing and lights on the car were ablaze.

Residents in the neighborhood of the garage stated the car entered the narrow alley way two hours before the blaze was discovered.

Firemen had difficulty in extinguishing the fire because of oil and gasoline which had run onto the pavement from parts of the machine.

Friends may call at the home any time until Monday evening.

Mr. Weigle had been ill for six weeks. He was born Oct. 14, 1856, at Monaca, Pa. He came to Salem in 1889 and was employed as foreman by the American Steel & Wire company, until three years ago when he retired. He was a member of the Elks lodge here and the Independent Hose company.

In 1885 he was united in marriage with Miss Ellen Brophy. Surviving are his widow; his niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Buchmann, and their son, Daniel of this city; four brothers, Marsh, Lewis, James Weigle, of Monaca, Pa., and Elmer Weigle, of Pittsburgh.

W. A. LEATHERBERRY

Funeral service for William A. Leatherberry, 71, who died at 7 p. m. Wednesday at Sherwood, Mich., will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vaughn, 233 East High st., at 2:30 p. m. Sunday in charge of Rev. A. C. Westphal, pastor of the First Baptist church; interment will be in Hope cemetery.

The body arrived here Saturday morning and friends may call at the Vaughn home any time up until Sunday noon.

Mr. Leatherberry was born in Augusta, Carroll county. He lived in Salem for 44 years; was a painter and paper hanger by vocation, and well known in the city. He was a member of the Salem Christian church and active in its interests.

Surviving are two children, Mrs. Estella King, Detroit, and Ralph O. Leatherberry, of near Warren; two brothers and two sisters.

THREE BANDITS HOLD UP WOMAN

$3,700 In Currency Taken As Armed Thugs Seize Money-Rag From Restaurant Owner

Cleveland, March 23.—Three men in and automobile held up and robbed Mrs. Mary Feher, 56, of $3,700 in currency, which she had just withdrawn from a bank to cash checks for workmen who patronize her husband's restaurant, here Friday.

After withdrawing the money Mrs. Feher and her son, John, 25, had started to return to the restaurant in their small coupe. The larger automobile, occupied by the three robbers, forced them to the curb where one of the bandits thrust a pistol through the window of the automobile while another seized the money bag, under Mrs. Feher's coat. Another bag, containing $400 was overlooked.

One of the bandits struck Mrs. Feher with his fist or the butt of his pistol just before they fled, she reported.

Three-Game Series To Decide City Basketball Championship

Seiberling Tires And Business College To Clash For Loop Title

A three-game series between the Seiberling Tires and Salem Business College, champions of the first and second halves in the city cage league, will decide the championship of the city next week.

The first contest will be played at the Memorial Building Monday night at 8 o'clock. Joe M. Kelley, director of the community center announced today. The second is scheduled for Tuesday, and if the teams split even in the opening pair, the deciding fracas will be played Thursday.

The members of the championship team will receive gold miniature basketball trophies and the runner-up silver charms. Special plans are being made for each of the games, Kelley announced, and either Davey Williams, Girard High school athletic director, or Hugh McPhee, Youngstown official, will referee.

Successful Season

The past season was one of the most successful in the history of the city league competition, Kelley states. Despite the fact that there was a poor turnout of fans to the games, which were of equal caliber with the finest exhibitions available to be viewed any place, the league progressed smoothly during both halves with keen competition marking the play during the entire schedule.

The Tires annexed the first half title after a hectic finish which found the loop in a five-way tie between the College, McArthur Florists, Electric Furnace, United Cigars, and the Seiberlings. The collegians and Tires survived the play-off, and met in a spectacular dual in the final contest, which was won by Arthur Stoner's combination by one point.

In the three games played between the college and Tires, the Tires have emerged victors twice. In the first meeting, Les Older was absent from the college lineup, and the Tires had no difficulty whatever in eking out the victory, but in the second, with Older back, the game was much closer.

Tires Suffer Slump
This half, just closed, the collegians turned the tables on the Seiberlings, who suffered a fierce slump, and handed them a wallop after they were outplayed for three-quarters. There is little question about it—the college has the finest passing attack in the business, but with the Tires' basket-makers, Pete Sanders and Rudy Kloos looping in their usual spectacular buckets from all angles of the floor, everything is evened up.

Older was probably the most outstanding performer in the league in all departments of competition. The former Salem High star has improved 100 per cent since he graduated from school and means just as much to the college team as baskets mean to a basketball court. "Lighthorse Harry" Vogell, mainstay of the Electric Furnace team, is the only player able to contest Older's claim to starring honors, and with this pair playing guard positions, it would surely form a combination hard to beat, were they placed on one team.

Leading Players
Pete Sanders and Andy Hann were other outstanding players, who merit mention for all-star honors as forwards. Wilbur Springer, center on the McArthur Florists is probably the best center. The Florists put out a nice team on the floor, with Bill McKeown, Herm Litty, Evan Jenkins, Springer, Floyd Stone, Ruffner and Joe Kelley, but failed to click. In selecting an all-star team, almost everyone of these would deserve mention. Pete Marsh, Saxons; Forrest Glasgow, Tires; Coy, Cigars; Clarence Sidinger, Furnace; Rudy Kloos, Tires; Andy Filp, Cigars; Danny Williams, Saxons and Hans Furnace, played flashy ball throughout the year.

Record-Breaking Crowd
Large crowds are expected at each of the first two titular battles, and record-breaking mobs are contemplated to jam the building Thursday if each team wins one of the two games. The strong teams will do battle in the affairs and a stiff struggle is expected.

The admission, maintained at a dime for adults and nickel to kids, will be raised to twenty-five cents for these contests.

McLarnin Beats Miller In Slow Scrap In Garden

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

New York, March 23.—Those desperate one-shot men, Jimmy McLarnin, and Ray Miller, were killers in cold-blood on former occasions, but last night they were just a couple of small bore arguers, that shot off ten rounds of blanks, before a crowd whose distinction only was exceeded by its profound apathy.

Yes, just a couple of small bores they were, weighing respectively 138½ and 138½ pounds, and this really was too bad because they encouraged the greatest crowd that ever saw a fight in Madison Square Garden, 22,000, to come out and suffer the anguish of which only a disillusioned fight crowd is capable. There was considerable more than $111,000, a local record for ten dollar fights, inside the windows out back at the dead line, and this money stayed to see, considerably less than $11 worth of fighting. McLarnin did nearly all of the shooting while Miller attended very carefully to all of the showing and as usual, they paid off the former.

McLarnin won eight of the ten rounds, trying very earnestly to bound a K. O. off a chin that seldom, if ever, was there.

Miller donated more weight than the official figure showed and his evident reaction was to take no chances. He succeeded, in fact, in taking less than that, he never came out of his capsule except on rare and very temporary occasions. On the last of these, he took a look at the time-clock in the last minute of play and then lashed out with that famous left hook of his, upon which McLarnin showed his appreciation by punching Raymond dizzy.

Cambridge In Easy Victory Over Oxford

Oxford Oarsmen Finish Poor Second In Historic Race

Putney, Eng., Mar. 23.—Cambridge university celebrated the centenary of the famous Oxford-Cambridge boat race today by decisively beating Oxford in this historic rowing contest on the River Thames. Cambridge won by seven boat lengths.

A crowd of nearly 1,500,000 people that lined both sides of the river sent up a thunderous cheer that rolled up and down the length of the 4½-mile course between Putney and Mortlake when Cambridge, after getting away behind its opponent, began to forge ahead.

At the end of the first mile the light blue oarsmen (Cambridge) were leading by a quarter of a boat length. At the end of the second mile the Cambridge crew were one and one-half boat lengths ahead of their dark blue (Oxford) opponents. At the end of the third mile Cambridge was three boat lengths in the lead. This lead was gradually extended.

The dark blue oarsmen could not stand the terrific pace. Their stroke weakened and at the finish they were seven boat lengths behind the powerful Cambridge crew. Cambridge's victory ended up the score with Oxford. In the past 100 years the race has been rowed 81 times. Cambridge and Oxford has each won 49 times. The contest in 1877 was a dead heat.

The time of the Cambridge crew was 19 minutes 25 seconds. The Cambridge oarsmen finished fairly fresh. The Oxford oarsmen were exhausted.

New Fight Syndicate Will Locate In New York In Near Future

New York, Mar. 23.—After several weeks of dickering, Jack Dempsey today declared himself in with Humbert J. Fugazy in the promotion of boxing here in competition with Madison Square Garden and also in other sections of the country.

The period of their agreement carries through the next two years. Contracts, covering the partnership, were signed in the office of Dempsey's attorney, Arthur F. Driscoll, following a final conference between the principals Friday afternoon.

Upon emerging from the conference, Dempsey admitted that he had received a "substantial" check as a bonus but declined to name the amount. The draft was furnished by Edwin H. Cole, who was designated as the financial backer of the combine, while Dempsey and Fugazy, according to the announcement, are equal partners, with Jack having final say in the matter of boxing in his capacity as matchmaker.

Work on an outdoor arena "within the city limits of New York" and seating upward of 100,000, will be started immediately, Dempsey said. He added that they expected to have the stadium finished by July 1.

"We are going after all of the big matches in the field," Jack declared. "Right now, our plans call for one big fight in July and another in September, with a half dozen other first-class matches to be sandwiched in between the two. Everything is racy between Mr. Fugazy and myself. We are in perfect accord on everything and I am confident that we are about to do big things in the first game."

The proposed lightweight championship fight between Sammy Mandell and Ray Miller will be held in Detroit, as originally planned.

NEGRO FREED OF MURDER CHARGE

Snatched from Death On Eve of Execution; To Go Home

Dayton, March 23.—Roy Freeman, 40, Tennessee negro, who was snatched from the electric chair at the Ohio state penitentiary by a supreme court order, was free today, after the jury in his second trial found him "not guilty" of the murder of 1 motorcycle Patrolman William C. Horn.

Freeman declared that he was "going back to Tennessee" as soon as he could get the railroad fare together. Acquittal of the negro writes a new record into the criminal history of Montgomery county.

Freeman was sentenced to the electric chair last October, following a long trial, in which an alleged confession made by him, was introduced as testimony.

At his second trial this confession was not allowed to be written into the records after arguments of defense attorneys charged that it had been obtained by "third degree" methods.

At the time of his first conviction, Freeman was removed from the county jail here to an adjoining county bastille after murmurs of "lynchings" were heard.

The shooting of Horn was Dayton's third murder within a two-week period.

ABOUT TOWN

Troop 2 Meets

Eighteen scouts, two visitors and two leaders were present at a meeting of Troop 2, Boy Scouts, Friday evening at the Memorial building.

The contest chart was filled out. Individual divisions showed Willard Crowl is still leading in the contest, having 86 points. Franklin Sutter is second, with 55 points.

Patrol division showed the Flying Eagle patrol first with 183 points and the Raccoon second with 55 points.

Individual stunts were put on and the meeting closed with prayer. The next meeting will be at the M. E. church in one week.

A special patrol leaders' meeting will be held at 7 p. m. Monday at the home of Scoutmaster Stratton.

NOT GUILTY IS GAMBLING PLEA

Man Accused of Conducting Gaming House Pleads To Four Indictments

Circleville, O., Mar. 23.—William Swartz, alleged gambler and manager of Pickaway county's Monte Carlo, the Southern club, pleaded not guilty to charges contained in four indictments when arraigned late yesterday before Judge J. W. Adkins.

Bond was set at $500 on each of the counts to which Swartz pleaded not guilty, that of keeping and operating gambling apparatus and maintaining a gaming room.

The trial date was not set pending the outcome of Swartz's appearance in federal court April 8 to answer to alleged liquor charges growing out of a raid staged in a Columbus hotel recently.

An indictment charging Swartz with playing dice for money and being a common gambler was withheld when he promised to take action to have the Southern club's charter revoked and the lease for the club property terminated.

WINONA WOMEN PRESENT PLAY

"The Strike of the Ladies' Aid" Entertains Butler Grangers At Meeting

A large number of people were interested in the entertainment given by the Ladies' Aid society of the Winona M. E. church Friday evening at Butler grange hall, featured by a humorous play, "The Strike of the Ladies' Aid." The audience was very appreciative.

The cast included: Mrs. Lewis Brown, Mrs. John Stewart, Mrs. Fremont King, Mrs. Ernest Walton, Mrs. J. Ward, Mrs. Clarence Taylor, Mrs. Ernest Puhar, Mrs. Walter Stratton, Mrs. Homer Mountz, Mrs. Samuel Bennett, Mrs. Frank Fultz, Mrs. Roy Andre, Mrs. Marion Bowler, Mrs. Charles Hoopes, Miss Marjorie Fultz, Mrs. Richard Stamp directed the play and contributed two musical readings to the program.

Musical comedies entertained between acts and these were given by Mrs. Frank Fredericks, Mrs. Oral Hoopes, Mrs. Wilford Edgerton, with Mrs. Rolland Coppock at the piano.

Curtiss Field, N. Y.—A device that reduces the noise of an airplane motor to a purr like that of an automobile has been tried here. It consists of four tiny whirling propellers and four small chambers to take care of exhaust gases. The device weighs 30 pounds.

MOVIES

In Playhouses Of Salem

At The State

Jean Crawford stars in "The Duke Steps Out," at the State tonight.

Reginald Denny is at the Royal, Friday and Saturday, in "The Night Bird." It is a new Denny picture, and again features him in a role of fighter, at intervals, where he indulges in a spectacular and funny boxing slugfest.

Betsy Lee and Sam Hardy play leading roles in the vehicle.

Great Picture
A wonderful cinema production, "The Duke Steps Out," closes a run of two days at the State tonight. William Haines, Joan Crawford, and Karl Dane all take starring roles in the narrative of a college boy who knows little but thinks he knows it all. It's a typical Haines picture, with the youth in another cock-sure role, where he can't be told anything but learns by experience. Despite its similarity to others of the type, its undoubtedly the best.

A double-feature closes the week at the Royal.

Local color will feature the Salem theatre program for three days next week and will bring something new to Salem theatre-goers, in the fact that four Salem boys will be included in the personnel of Lew Platt's Southern Collegiate orchestra, billed for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Charles Leech, Ed Siding, Nick Nedelka and Lewis Platt, director and drummer, are the Salem lads playing in the troupe. All are well-known to the city's population. Siding, for his athletic reputation in Salem High, and the remaining three for their outstanding musical ability.

Leech performs on the bass, Siding, the banjo, Nedelka is a trumpeter and Platt the drummer. Together with this stellar quartet will be Little Sunshine, a juvenile colored dancer, "Smoke" and Aul Kenny Livermore, and other musicians of note.

Radioists probably have tuned in to the strains of the band's harmony over WKBN several times. Recently they appeared at the Music Box cafe in Cleveland, and are enroute to a tour of Pennsylvania.

ON THE SCREEN

On the screen during the week, each of the city's three playhouses has scheduled a far more than average program. The Royal brings

IT IS BEING pointed out that many business institutions in this country seem prosperous because of the magnitude of their trade, but yet are not making profits. In the same way, many people with large incomes are not getting ahead because they spend as fast as they earn.

It isn't the total sales of a business house that means profit. It isn't the earning power of a man that means profit. It's what you save of what you earn that counts.
